Notes to WI Programme Secretaries

1. If writing to a Speaker by post, always enclose a stamped addressed envelope for a reply. If contacting a Speaker by email, print any replies as proof of confirmation.
2. Please remember that all bookings made by telephone should be confirmed in writing. This can either be in a letter or email format. The fee and travel expenses should be agreed immediately afterwards, giving the appropriate details of date, time and place of meeting. The Speaker should also be told how much time is allowed for the talk or demonstration. It would be most helpful if, when writing to speakers or demonstrators, a contact telephone number is given which could be used by the Speaker in the event of a last minute emergency.

3. A reminder, giving the necessary directions both to and from the meeting, should be sent at least a week beforehand. It is often difficult to find the way to a hall on a dark winters evening so a good, well drawn map is very useful. Postcodes of venues can also be useful for those using Satellite Navigation.
4. It is worth finding out the travelling expenses beforehand and the length and method of the Speakers journey. It is the duty of the WI to appoint a Hostess to welcome and look after the Speaker, introduce them to the President and see to their comfort. Don't forget to leave a parking space for them and do help them with any boxes etc.
5. Speakers fees and travelling expenses should always be paid at the meeting, and by bank transfer or cheque payable to them personally and not to a national charity.
6. Do see that adequate table space and any requested equipment is made available before the start of a meeting.
7. Do not keep the Speaker waiting if they arrive promptly. If necessary, the remainder of the business could be postponed until the end of the talk.
8. The Federation has agreed with these Speakers that the information contained in the Speakers Handbook is for the use of Huntingdon and Peterborough WIs. Please do not pass the information on to anyone else. In accordance with GDPR, please ensure all earlier editions are destroyed.
9. Finally; use local talent whenever possible, especially during winter months; keep a look-out in the local press for ideas; do not be afraid of trying something new and remember—a WI with a dull programme cannot expect to gain new members or even keep their present ones.

COMMUNITY/VOLUNTARY ORGANISATIONS

1. Dementia Friends Information Service

The Dementia Friends Information Session, an initiative formed by the Alzheimer's Society, is a simple but poignant presentation where you will learn a little more about dementia, how it may feel to be living with dementia and how best we can support those affected by dementia.

The session lasts approximately one hour and includes a few activities.

Fees: A voluntary donation to the Alzheimer's Society would be very welcome.

Travel expenses: No travel expenses.

2. Mary's Meals

Mary's Meals was inspired by the words of a child back in 2002. We started by feeding just 200 children in Malawi a daily meal in their place of education, and now we feed over 2.4 million children in 18 countries. Our story begins in 1992 in the village of Dalmally in Scotland when 2 brothers were having a pint in their local pub. Our global headquarters is still the small shed that was used as storage on their father's farm. This presentation tells you the story of Mary's Meals from its humble beginnings to now being a global charity helping children and their communities build a ladder out of poverty.

Availability: Morning, Afternoon, Evening.

Requirements: Preferably access to a screen/projector/speaker to show presentation. Power supply.

Contact: Mrs Jane Wright, North Hykeham, Lincolnshire.

4. The Angels Foundation UK

The Angels Foundation UK is a Registered Charity 1205725 (formerly known as The Property Angels Foundation) which supports families who have fled domestic abuse throughout Huntingdonshire. We provide families with furniture, flooring, home comforts and social introductions to the community through our 'Back to Life' support project. The Angels Foundation UK's purpose is to bring comfort and hope to families fleeing domestic abuse. Integral to the support we give families affected by domestic abuse, is that they understand their community haven't forgotten about them, that they aren't alone, and that people care about them.

3. Rip and Burn Textile Landscapes

When one usually thinks about sewing and the equipment needed, a soldering iron doesn't usually spring to mind. However, this is a vital piece of equipment for me to produce my layered textile landscape pictures. I use fabric, stitch and my trusted soldering iron. The technique involves layering fabric which is subsequently stitched, burnt with the soldering iron and then embellished with machine stitch, hand embroidery and sometimes beads. In my talk I explain how I came across the technique, my influences and the fabrics that I use (which are always pre-loved).

I provide samples of fabric and soldering irons so that members can have a try themselves. I also sell small starter kits with everything included for members to take home and explore the method further for themselves.

I can ensure that you will have a "Rip Roaring" evening!!

Availability: Morning, afternoon, evening, and short notice.

Requirements: Two tables near an electrical socket.

Contact: Mrs Lee Harris, Bury.

Fees: £80, plus travel expenses

2. Ghostly Tales

I have been telling stories to WI groups across Est Anglia for the last 15 or so years and as such have a large repertoire of material ready to entertain and tell.

I tell stories to children and adults at locations that include schools, village halls, parks, gardens and at festivals.

I have a number of sets of stories/legends/folktales from Huntingdonshire/Cambridgeshire/Fenland/East Anglia/England etc as well as themed sets such as Ghostly/Spooky and tales of Stories/Folktales/Legends/Country Folk.

All sets can last from 40 minutes to an hour to suit the group, and I do list the stories I tell so that repeat bookings don't get the same stories, yes, some groups do book me more than once.

All sets can be presented without any equipment however I am putting together accompanying historically appropriate pictures for some of them, please ask for up to date information. The provision of a screen by a group if required would be useful.

Also in preparation is a set that will include some English Folk songs/Music Hall songs that will include the opportunity to sing along too interspersed with stories. Again please ask for details if interested.

Availability: Morning, afternoon, evening, and sometimes short notice

Requirements: Dependant on talk.

3. The Tally Ho Project

Talk One: One of Our Own.

The remarkable story of local Battle of Britain pilot, Squadron Leader Victor Ekins DDFC.

I am pleased to be able to share the quite remarkable story of local Battle of Britain pilot, Victor Ekins. Based on the wartime diaries that he meticulously kept during the war and that lay unread for over 80 years, this is a tale of friendship, love, loss and action.

It has been the privilege of a lifetime to have researched his story for over 3 1/2 years and see it published in July 2023.

The talk itself includes a presentation where I share many unseen photos from the Battle of Britain as I take you back to those epic summer months of 1940.

Talk Two: A Higher Call'

This is one of the most remarkable stories that I have ever heard during a lifetime of research about WW2. Charlie Brown, an American bomber pilot based at RAF Kimbolton takes off on his first mission over occupied Europe. He was 21 years old and had lied about his age to his crew. His story is entwined with that of a German fighter ace named Franz Stigler, who has the lives of Charlie's B17 bomber 'Ye Olde Pub' in his hands. Will he take the shot?...

This incredible story is brought to life with a presentation that includes photos from the era.

Availability: Evening, and short notice

Requirements: I have a laptop and projector, I will just need a screen or blank white wall to project onto.

Contact: David Duker. St.Neots.

Tel: 07917206128. Email: thetallyhoproject@gmail.com

Fees: £75.00.

4. It's Hell on Wheels

Stephen has been a Driving Instructor for over 36 years - and is still alive!

Find out what the current driving test is like. It's changed a lot since we took out tests!

Hear the hilarious questions my Learners have asked and said during their driving lessons.

Experience a funny mock driving lesson courtesy of an (un)willing volunteer from your audience.

Can offer a Zoom quiz if required.

Availability: Afternoon and evening .

Requirements: No electronic equipment is needed. I only need a small table to put my props on and two chairs. I have my own microphone and sound system.

Contact: Mr Stephen Brown, Boston, Lincolnshire.

Tel: 07702 064409

Email: steve_ionwheels@hotmail.com

Fees: £65.

Travel expenses: subject to negotiation

5. Shakespeare Groupie!

Talk One: Shakespeare Groupie

I've seen all of Shakespeare's 37 (or is it 38 or maybe 39 ...) plays over the last 40 years. All on stage and mostly multiple times, with many of the greats from Dench to Walters, Gielgud and Jacobi, Sheen and Tennant and Rylance.

Many were fabulous, many were dire, all were memorable.

So, I'd love to share some anecdotes about the drying, the corpsing, the mishaps, and the shenanigans - and a few examples of pure genius which I've witnessed in that time.

No equipment needed, just a lively talk by a Shakespeare Groupie ... and you don't even have to like him to enjoy it!

Talk Two: Shakespeare Groupie Revisited

This is the rest of the Groupie talk. If you've had me to be a Groupie, then why not re-invite me for the rest of the stories ...

Talk Three: Shakespeare Genius Alert

The life and theatrical times of the Bard himself - Master William Shakespeare. From his birth in Stratford-upon-Avon up to and including his time as a successful playwright in London.

No equipment needed as I'll bring pictures to hand round and a model of an Elizabethan theatre.

And if we have time we'll finish off with a lively exchange of Shakespearean insults ... you never know, you might find a few of them quite handy!

Availability: Morning, afternoon, evening and potentially short notice.

Requirements: None.

Contact: Mrs Elizabeth Dive, Perry, Huntingdon.

Tel: 07843 989940

Email: lizdive@icloud.com

Fees: £50.00.

Travel expenses: None.

6. Behind the Scenes in the sale room

I talk about my life as an antiques valuer and auctioneer, recounting in a light-hearted and amusing manner my experiences on the rostrum and the many fascinating items I have been asked to value and sell. I describe how to buy and sell at auction and talk about what goes on behind the scenes in the saleroom and in front of the cameras on 'Flog It!', BBC TV's popular antiques programme. I bring with me a few items of interest which the audience can handle and discuss.

Availability : Morning, afternoon and evening, also short notice

Requirements: no electronic equipment unless you would like our speaker to wear a microphone, then this will need to be supplied.

Contact: David Fletcher, Bedford.

Tel: 07771532177

8. My Life as a Micro Artist

The most amazing and unusual presentation you are likely to see - thought-provoking, awe-inspiring and highly entertaining.

I knew, the day I left school at the age of 15 without any qualifications, that I had already failed on an epic scale. This was brought home to me when I secured my first job - emptying mouse traps in a Birmingham factory. The only positive memory I took from school, was of an inspiring English teacher, who explained how anyone could succeed at the highest level imaginable. Inspired by this same teacher, two of my class-mates went on to become world-renowned rock musicians, another became an Olympic runner and another pupil is now a television household name. The teacher's parting words, to me as I left school for the last time, were, "For the rest of your life, remember, if you want to achieve, you must think differently and behave differently. Think the same as everyone else, and you will achieve just the same."

This advice led me to securing the most enviable and prestigious client list imaginable, which included Buckingham Palace, Windsor Castle, Balmoral, Sandringham, The National Gallery, Rolls Royce, Chanel, Harrods, Fortnum & Mason, Richard Branson, Andrew Lloyd-Webber, Kim Kardashian, Elton John, Uri Geller and many, many other celebrities.

I am now considered by multi-millionaire fine-art investors around the globe to be the most talented artist alive today. Of course I don't believe it, but, being a thick Brummie, I'm sure you will understand when I say, it's good for my ego to hear this!

After carving The Lord's Prayer on the head of a pin, and engraving the words, 'Nothing is Impossible' along the sharp edge of a Wilkinson Sword razor blade, and the smallest portrait in the world of the Queen (on a gold disc inside the eye of a needle), I have appeared in many news, radio and television features internationally, and been the subject of a Discovery Channel documentary. Two years ago, a film of my art was shown at the annual Art and Film Festival in Hollywood.

An interesting venture, which brought me massive media coverage in 58 countries around the world, was when I engraved a portrait of Jane Austen on four £5 notes, then travelled around Britain, spending them in small shops. These four notes were valued at £50,000 each.

I go to greater lengths than anyone else in the world in an effort to produce art on such a minute scale. Working from midnight to 5.00 am, to avoid vibration from passing traffic, I lower my pulse to 20 beats a minute with the aid of potassium, magnesium and beta-blockers, and while wearing a stethoscope I engrave between heartbeats when I am perfectly still. Regular injections of Botox into my eyelids ensure there is no distraction from eye-muscles and nerves. At the age of 76 I still swim 8,000 metres every day. The reasoning is that the fitter I am, the lower my resting heart-rate, which gives me a good base to work from. I am also a former European champion and record holder - 200m butterfly and 1500m freestyle.

I have many funny anecdotes to relate, concerning the celebrities and Royals I have met and worked with. (I am also the Royal engraver, and have been, for the last 35 years).

I will ensure that your members are thrilled with my presentation and are left talking about it long after it ends. I will add, your members will tell you it's the best talk they have ever heard. If they don't say this, you needn't pay me! As you are aware, no other speaker would ever dare say this to you.

One last point, if your members don't like laughing, then my 60-minute presentation is not for you!

Availability: Morning, afternoon and evening, and short notice.

5. Various Talks with Paul Rabbitts

Talk ONE - Bandstands - History, Decline and Revival - A talk on the history of the Bandstand, from their origins in the mid-18th century to their heyday during the Victorian park making era, and their subsequent decline post World War Two. This talk is a slide show that follows this fascinating history and the recent revival of the bandstand in our public parks. This is a highly illustrative talk that engages many and fascinates the listener and has had excellent feedback from those who have heard this engaging talk. THIS IS A VERY POPULAR TALK

Talk TWO - A Concise History of our Great British Public Parks - This really is a fascinating insight into the history of one of our greatest ever institutions - our great British public park. We have all enjoyed them at some time in our lives but what do we really know about them? their origins? did they really start in the Victorian period or do they go even further back? This talk illustrates their origins, talks about the need for parks, the Victorian heyday, what makes a great park, with examples of lodges, lakes, bandstands, fountains and floral displays, to their great decline in the sixties and seventies. However, the subsequent revival has led to a major shift in interest in our parks and once again we are much in love with them. This is also a highly illustrative talk accompanied by slides with examples of parks from across the UK and their designs and architecture. This is a particularly popular talk and always goes down well as we can nearly always recount our own experiences with our own local park.

Talk THREE - London's Royal Parks - London's royal parks are among its most beautiful and beloved spaces: just as much as the Houses of Parliament, Buckingham Palace or St Pancras Station, the mere mention of Hyde or Regent's Park is enough to evoke the capital in all its glory for residents and tourists alike. They have a grand history - some were royally owned as far back as the Norman conquest, others were acquired by Henry VIII during the Reformation - and since being opened to the public during the eighteenth century, they have hosted some of London's great events, including the Great Exhibition and innumerable jubilees and celebrations. This talk tells the story of all eight of the parks from the point when they were acquired by the monarchy until the present day, including the major historic moments and events with which they are associated.

Talk FOUR - Parks, People and Places - A Life in Landscape - This is really a talk about me!! from my beginnings as a landscape architect in Jersey to Carlisle City Council, to Middlesbrough Council, into consultancy at Halcrow and then as Head of Parks at Watford, Southend-on-Sea and to Norwich. Its a journey through my career, telling the stories of many of the small to large projects over the years I have worked on - multi-million pound park restoration projects to small scale community projects with local unemployed men, to wandering around the Scottish Borders or the Isle of Wight looking at allotments and play areas. I also have designed many private gardens over the years and tell the stories of some of the more bizarre requests from clients, to more recent escapades in writing and researching bandstands across the country. 35 years and counting, it is another talk that is engaging and enlightens the listener into the world of the landscape architect and parks manager with a weird slant on why I am obsessed with bandstands and is also illustrated with slides.
